who has been taken rom us is ifre arable. X one who thinks of it can do the that it will me Though "the government at Washington sti lives." it is not to be expected that its admin istration will go on as it would have done has this terrible over t pot occurred. The individ uality of President Carneld was different from that of any possible success ir, Wille it is un meant that James Garfield was the side man liv to be president, it is still to be said that he was one directly chosen by he people for the presidency; that he had shown in intuitive perception of the present requirements of publie administration, and that to his natural power of interpreting the lemants of an intelligent public judgment he acaled a steady, forceful and conscientions purpose of meeting and satisfying those demands. Thus his all ministration, though only just begun, gave promise of highest success in itself and of an usual beneficence to the country.

Of course we can get on without Presiden Garneld, because we mus . The stream of our national life wil that he in errupted, the pressure of multifurious duties will not be suspended, and we nust address ourselves anew to problems that must ever be grappled with. But the work that he was carrying on, to the satisfaction of the country, will not follow the same course as if it had remained under his guiding hand. We should not deceive ourselves. It is a shallow philosophy that attempts to consolo us for every loss with the It is gratifying to know that the Caribeld platitude that all which has pois must be for family will be made secure from the difficulties rience often touches us that what hap was next to nothing, consisting chiefly of the real progress is made or glyantage gained, under mort tage. Under these circumstances such result comes not from the assumed fact the fund raised for Mrs. Gaineld in New York that whatever happens in ust necessarily be und other rastern cities will serve a good purwell, but rather from the actual fact that in lose. Vice works under a multitude of disguises. Tolerated in one phase, it makes is appearance in another: The whole tone of our national lied is lowered and vitiated by certain bad teatures of our poturb the whole body. The semoval of President Garfield, who was don't ng with the most prominent of existing national evils makes it cessary for the people to redouble their diligence and increase their efforts, , One of our elergymen elequently said on Sunday: "It was political ranger, stimulated by the greed of office, that pointed the fatal pistol as the most precious life of our country. Nor at the t, li closes over the murdered president we forget this and relapse in to indifference, we shall be again awakened as rudely and paintelly, perhaps not in this, but if not in some other and even more agonizing way. INDIANA LIQUOR L. V. A new liquor law, we are fold, is about to go into effect in Indians. It contains some provisions which are new in anti-I quor legislation. Persons who get drank are to be fined for the first and second offenses, but for the the third offense are liable to be uprisoned. and disfranchised. The same penalties are prescribed for those who sell the liquor to the intoxicated persons. This is a new ceparture in the way of enforcing temperance, sobriety and good order. Laws regulating the sa a of liquors generally vieit severe pena ties upon the seller for the r violat . bu! le the drinker escape all responsibility for h s part in the transaction. There will probably be no small stir in the Hoosier state if any real attompt should be made to enforce this aw. Yet it is to be hoped that there will be carnest effort to enforce it. Why indeed should not the man who gets drunk be punished equally with the man who solls him the fique. Is the moral obliquity all on one side? The bars are a great temptation to the miserable creature with the alcoholic appetite, but there are t lousands of men who go as deliberately about getting drunk as they do to accomplish any other object. When they ake the first drink they do so with the intent on of fo lowing it with a second and third, and so on until they have reached the drunken stage. If the evil of liquor selling consists in making persons drunk, why should not the buyer as well as the seller be punished . We have, indeed, no great faith in this experiment of runishing (earing right of way and logging on the the drinkers, since there are too many who NORTHERN PACIFIC Railroad, at Lake either drink thomselves or excuse it in P-n d'Orel le, Idaho Territory. Wages others; and hence he same or a similar difficulty will be experienced here as that encountered when it is attempted to ring the sellers to judgment. But the Indiana legislature thinks the experiment worth trying. It would not only be a disgrace but a creadful punishment to be deprived of the ballot for getting drunk three times, particular y as the class most accuston od to getting dounk usually regard voting as the chief end of man, though they are about the line; entitled of all classes to exercise the right. But the severity of the law will probably de ear its of ject. It

Noville ever died in that city.

Gen. Care heard from.

Camp Thomas, Sopt. 25.—Reports from General Cair were received laie-last night from Sanchez villages on the Cibicu. He says he arrived there at 20 clock and found the graves of those killer in the fight violated, and the boolies horribly mutilated. The bodies were befried and volleys first over the graves by the compliand. No hostiles were found except three old squaws who had been left behind. McLellan's command found strong forth estions near White Mountaircreek which the hostiles had abandoned. These reports show that the bostiles must have left the Cibicu country and broke for San Carlos. Later reports from the agency state that more of the renegades came in last night, evidently chased by troops moving in that directic i from Cibicu.

Ireland must have Peace.

Loxdon, Sept. 24.—The Times says: There is no sign of improvement in affairs in Ireland. It is for the government to defeat by any necessary means whatever the evil designs of those who are determined that Ireland in spite of the land act, shall not be suffered to be at peace. If the land act, shall not be suffered to be at peace. If the land act, is insufficient, there were other acts relating to Ireland before it which, might now be used more freely than they had as yet been it subplement it, but it expansion used without any respect to persons if they are to prove efficient for good.
